

Microsurgery Conference References and President Endorsements

Consultant Plastic Surgeon Mr. Navid Jallali (Patron)

Jay demonstrated exceptional initiative and dedication in his role, showcasing outstanding leadership, organisational skills, and a strong commitment to educational excellence throughout his tenure as Conference Chair. His efforts were instrumental in the success of the Microsurgery Conference and in furthering the mission of iPRAS. Jay illustrated exceptional ability in researching and implementing new workshops, introducing them for the first time in the history of the Microsurgery Conference. His talent for recruiting and securing speakers was outstanding, as was his ability to adapt under pressure and devise innovative approaches. Jay consistently attended all of iPRAS' events and provided valuable support to the team. His dedication to enhancing plastic surgery education has been commendable and vital to the success of the conference. Jay has been excellent in his role, showing a sustained commitment and making significant contributions to the field of plastic surgery education.

Consultant Plastic Surgeon Mr. William Van Niekerk

It is with great pleasure that I formally endorse Jay Singh for the presidency of iPRAS. I have had the opportunity to work closely with Jay, in particular during the recent iPRAS Microsurgery Conference, where he was deeply involved in its organisation and delivery. I was impressed by Jay's initiative, organisational skills, and ability to problem solve. He is a team player, has a kind, respectful, and enthusiastic demeanour, and shows strong leadership skills. Jay is well-equipped to take on the lead role at iPRAS. I am confident that, as president, he will continue to move the organisation forwards in its mission to deliver interesting and exciting meetings, as well as useful education for budding young plastic surgeons. I have no hesitation in recommending and endorsing him to for this position.

Senior Plastic Surgery Fellow Ms. Ei Wynn

During our collaboration at the Microsurgery Conference, Jay exhibited remarkable quick-thinking and leadership. When faced with the unexpected cancellation of a key speaker, Jay swiftly organized a Q&A panel that not only filled the gap but also enhanced the interactive learning experience for all attendees. This panel, driven by Jay's initiative, turned a potential setback into a highlight of the conference, demonstrating his ability to handle crisis situations effectively. Jay's leadership at the conference was not only effective but also inspirational, making him an excellent candidate for leading iPRAS into its next chapter.

Plastic Surgery Registrar Ms. Villy Fesaditou

Having worked closely with Jay at the Microsurgery Conference, I can attest to his innovative approach and meticulous attention to detail. His ability to think outside the box and his commitment to excellence significantly elevated the educational offerings of our conference. Jay's hands-on involvement and strategic thinking were instrumental in the success of the conference, reflecting his potential to lead iPRAS with both vision and integrity. I am confident that his leadership will bring a fresh and impactful perspective to iPRAS.

Plastic Surgery Registrar Mr. Dejan Keckes

It is my pleasure to recommend Jay for iPRAS President. During the recent Microsurgery Conference, Jay's exceptional organisational skills were evident in his success at recruiting numerous workshop demonstrator. Notably, Jay introduced the innovative chicken thigh workshops, a challenging and unique test for delegates that pushed the boundaries of early exposure microsurgical training. These workshops were not only a testament to Jay's creativity but also to his ability to meet the high standards required in plastic surgery education. His leadership and commitment to excellence have made a lasting impact, and I am confident that Jay's vision and drive will continue to benefit iPRAS as President.
