About me:

- 1st year medical student
- From London
- Part of HSoc Subcom
- Love dancing  and playing badminton

My roles:

My primary roles would involve promoting all events hosted by the society on HSoc group chats and social media such as Instagram and TikTok. I plan on managing the freshers chat in the upcoming months, giving new students an insight into the society, the events we host and encouraging them to become members too.

Why me?

- I am friendly and approachable :)
- 1 year experience running a society for students interested in pursuing healthcare professions which involved the following skills:
- Multitasking - I was responsible for inviting guest speakers, and organising weekly sessions for a large audience
- I'm creative - I designed posters + devised captions to promote events via various social media platforms and encourage people to attend
- I created Instagram stories to keep members constantly updated. I posted Q&As for the audience before each session to maintain active engagement with students

My aims:

- Whilst on the subcommittee, I have recently taken up the responsibility of creating HSoc TikToks, which will contribute to my experience to make even better content next year!
- Teamwork: to collaborate with events officers/design and marketing lead to ensure we create and post eye-catching content
- Communication: to respond in a timely manner to any questions and queries that come through on social media
